

K-Line Connection

| Order Name                                                                                            | Length            | Short Name   | Order Number  |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------|--------------|---------------|
| K-Line Adapter Cable OBDII J1962 to the cables K78, K96, and CBK100-1m5                        |                   |              |               |
| Used for simultaneous access to vehicle CAN and K-Line through OBDII connector.                       |                   |              |               |
| K-Line and CAN Adapter Cable, OBDII J1962Plug - Round Connector - 2xDSUB (16mc-14fc+9fc+9mc), 1m5 | 1.50 m4.92 ft | CBACK100-1m5 | F-00K-104-160 |

|                                                                                                              |                   |          |               |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------|----------|---------------|
| K-Line Adapter Cable OBDII J1962 (truck) to the cables K78, K96, and CBK100-1m5                       |                   |          |               |
| Used for simultaneous access to vehicle CAN and K-Line through OBDII connector.                              |                   |          |               |
| K-Line and CAN Adapter Cable, OBDII J1962Plug (24V) - Round Connector - 2xDSUB (16mc-14fc-9fc+9mc), 1m50 | 1.50 m4.92 ft | CBACK120 | F-00K-106-476 |

---

Custom cables can be produced according to your specifications. For more information on custom cables, please contact your local ETAS sales representative.

